BIG ARCH OF APPLES Dadway's

To Span South Main Street in the Street Fair.

TO BE FORTY FEET HIGH

And Covered Entirely With All Kinds of Apples.

Glowing with the lustre of myriads of blushing apples covering it entirely, an arch; beyond it a gigantic tree bearing luscious fruits of every clime; beside it a beautiful little nook for headquarters for visiting Oklahomans.

These three additions to the street fair were figured out yesterday.

The Dean, the fruit man, thought of the apple arch, the Winesay Temple. The arch, smothered in the flaunt of the stolen Kansas sunshine, will lift its flery head forty feet above the pavement. It will be 100 feet across and 30 feet bigh in the main, a pointed cupoia going ten feet higher. They have had such apple architecture in Omaha, Chicago, Sloux City, but this one in Wichita is to be more gorgeous, more eye-captivating and more mouth-watering than any of them. It is to set the pace in fruit decoration

Back of it will stand the midsummer aristmas tree, with electric lights blink ng and sparkling between all kinds of fruits, all the brilliant goodles of the tropics comexd out of nature's magic box, all the dazzling globes of sweetness grown in a more temperate clime, every ape and shae and size.

Near it will be Oklahoma headquarters This will be a regular place and meeting point for Okiahoma visitors. A register will be kept for signatures so that friends may find one another. Miss Dean will be on hand to take messages from one Oklahoman to another, and do any sort of stenographic work the Oklahomans nay ask.

The arch, the tree, and the Oklahoma elreat will be located on South Main street at the point of turning, just be-low the Hamilton hotel.

The idea was brought forth yesterday and will grow to a reality this week. Mr. Raiph Dunbar, manager of the big spectacular inaugural and queen's aronation, which is to be formally openthe Wichita Carnival, is working day and night in order that every feature of the ceremonies may be produced in a manner in keeping with the other grand and elaborate events of the festivities. The Auditorium stage has already been larged so that the opening at the front 75 feet in width, with a highth of 2) This improvement will permit a ull view of the entire stage from every

There will appear several of the most noted solists in the west, whose names will be made public early in the west.

The building will be much larger as the west of brick.

The most unique and entensely intersting feature of the evening will undoubtedly be the caronation scene at the close of the program.
